Announcing Bible Study for 2019

Beginning September 11th and continuing for about 8 weeks. Meeting after Wednesday evening Mass, 7:30 pm to around 9 pm.

Food From Heaven, The Eucharist in Scripture, by Jeanne Kun, from the Word Among Us Press

We will read and study passages from the Old and New Testaments that reveal the many layers of meaning found in the Eucharist. We begin with the manna given to the Israelites as explained in Exodus and conclude with readings from Luke and John.

Please call the office to register your intent to participate. We used this book several years ago, so some people may have it. As we did last year, we will order used books for around $5.

Newcomers! Think about joining us. We are very informal, and no one needs to be a "biblical scholar". No homework, no tests, just reading and discussing the material together.

Rite of Christian Initiation

Our parish will be offering RCIA beginning soon for those who are interested in joining the Catholic Church and our community of St. Padre Pio. Classes will be on Thursdays at 7:00pm to prepare for an Easter Confirmation. This time is an opportunity for anyone interested in learning more about the Catholic faith. If you are interested, please contact the office.

Faith Formation News

Children are the Living Messages we send to a Time we will not see.

Registration forms are available at both sites for this Fall's Faith Formation Program. $25 for one child, $50 for families 2 or more. Fees are due September 8th. Registration forms & Fees may be placed in collection basket at Mass, dropped off at Parish Office or mail.

Please register as soon as possible to help with ordering books and supplies for Faith Formation classes beginning September 15th.

Mass intentions

Currently, all weekend mass intentions are scheduled through December 2019. Some weekday masses are still available, please stop by during office hours or contact the office to schedule.

2019-2020

On Friday, August 30th, we will begin taking requests for 2020. Masses can be scheduled in person or by mail. Mass intentions need to be paid for at the time of scheduling. Everyone will have the opportunity to request no more than two (2) weekend Masses. If the date requested is not available then the next closest will be offered. These Masses will be filled on a first come basis in person only, requests by mail will then be filled. So many people like to request Christmas, Easter, Mother's Day, Father's Day and Thanksgiving Masses, that we are simply not able to equitably offer these Masses for individual intentions. We will in turn be offering these Masses for All Parishioners which of course includes those living and deceased. We hope this will help to offer everyone the opportunity to have Masses said for their intentions while allowing for unexpected Masses to be said in a timely fashion.

Diocesan Listening Session

A recommendation of the Movement to Restore Trust (MRT) was to commit to a partnership with the laity to restore trust and ensure the faithful are central within the organizational structures of the Church. A total of eight Listening Sessions are being held throughout the Diocese. The purpose of the listening sessions is designed for the Bishop to hear the concerns of the engaged parishioners and for them to offer recommendations for future initiatives regarding pastoral care, spiritual care, and ministry. Five members of St. Padre Pio and Father Ted attended the Batavia session held at Ascension Parish on August 3rd. There were about 75 attendees and several priests.

Comments from the tables of participants covered the following topics:

- A. Faith Formation, need to improve.
- B. Financial concerns, reduced giving, impact on parishes.
- C. Importance of laity participation.
- D. Thankful that Bishop is going out to outlying areas.
- E. Comments about priests who have been accused, how handled.
- F. Needs of parishes, especially establishing youth programs.

Concluding the event, both Bishop Malone and John Hurley, President of Canisius College and a member of Movement to Restore Trust (MRT) organizing committee, spoke. John Hurley's remarks referred to the work of MRT, whose information can be found on the website <https://movementtorestoretrust.org>. and in the material included.

The final thoughts from the Bishop were captured by an attendee in the room and are summarized below:

Bishop Malone thanked all for coming, for the significant & challenging comments, much of what he has heard at the other listening sessions. He said he discovered cases for 50-60 years that had not been dealt with. Currently there are 9-10 cases that are already at the Vatican for the final decision as to whether a priest is laicized. The MRT is a movement of the Holy Spirit, their call to accountability is a challenging one, but he is willing to accept it. The point was not for him to respond to specific questions but to have taken notes which Dennis Mahaney has done.

He stated he heard concerns regarding the financial element of all this, the credibility of the Diocese is wounded and so is his. Bishop stated: I must tell you that nothing from the Diocese of Buffalo or Upon This Rock is used for the settlements. Are we concerned about the financial matters? Yes we are. $18 million from diocesan reserves was used for the IRCP settlements, which was independent from the Diocese. Our reserves are going down but we have more reserves to draw on, as well as the sale of properties. We are also in dialogue with our insurance carriers regarding coverage – some of it will cover tragic sexual abuse but not others. Please trust me (Bishop Malone) that no money from Upon This Rock or Catholic Charities is being used for the settlements.

He's committed to a new way of being Church together, but our credibility has been deeply bruised by this whole thing. We also have a whole new faith formation curriculum for the diocese that is totally family-focused. The Bishop asked how many in the room have heard of this new curriculum, 1/3 of the room raised their hands. He noted that this means they have work to do in further implementing the curriculum. He accented that he heard concerns about youth and family, which is a very important point that was raised today. He is in full agreement with all on that. The theme of young people is an obsession of his – engaging youth and young adults is vital.

There is no simple solution – this is very complex and there is no easy fix. We are all concerned about the past and the terrible things done to victims and how things were handled. At the same time, the larger mission of the Church has to go forward – parish life, support for the poor, refugees and migrants, etc. One good thing is that the media has brought this cancer to light. People ask me, “Bishop, how do you stay standing strong?” I tell them it is due first to God’s grace, then to my own conscience – I know what I will accept responsibility for and what I won’t, and then to the good people around me – the MRT included. They challenge me more than any other group. I want to read to you from today’s office of readings – from a letter from St. Ignatius of Antioch to Polycarp:

Work together in harmony, struggle together, run together, Suffer together, rest together, rise up together, as stewards, Ministers and advisors of God. Let none of you prove a deserter. Let your baptism be your armor, your faith your helmet, and your charity your sword.

This event is intended to inspire a respectful dialogue on what has been done and must now be done to protect the vulnerable, hold leaders accountable, and begin to reform, renew, and heal the Church in the Diocese of Buffalo. Several national and local leaders with diverse experiences and expertise will examine the root causes of the failures within the Church, the proper role of the laity in addressing those failures, and realistic suggestions on best practices that will help us impact the culture of the Church.

A MOVEMENT TO RESTORE TRUST IN THE DIOCESE OF BUFFALO

An organization of independent concerned, committed Catholics in the Roman Catholic Diocese of Buffalo formed to assert the laity's rightful role in the Church and to help lead a movement to restore trust and confidence in the Church in the wake of the shocking disclosures about the diocese's handling of sex abuse cases involving clergy in Buffalo.

MRT MISSION

Be a conduit for the voice of the laity and lead the Church of Buffalo to a new place, where a state of trust has been restored and is marked by:

- Justice of victims of sex abuse
- Transparent structures for bishop accountability
- Commitment to co-responsibility
- Complete transparency about sex abuse and a new process
- Replacing outdated practices based on a respect for the competency of the laity

MRT WORK GROUPS ARE ADDRESSING

- Transparency around the nature and scale of abuse in the Diocese of Buffalo and financial and spiritual restoration for the victims
- Transparency about all diocesan operations
- Accountability for bishops
- Lay involvement in selecting and monitoring bishops
- Greater involvement by women and laity in the Church
- Improvements in the formation of priests and priestly life

WHAT WE ARE HEARING

- Enormous anger over the sex abuse scandal
- A significant erosion of trust
- The need for transformational cultural change
- Clericalism is at the root of many of the issues involving culture
- The need to work in active partnership with the laity

We are determined to help the Church of Buffalo look forward, implement meaningful reforms, and rebuild the faithful's trust and confidence.

NINE FOUNDATIONAL RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Commit to a partnership with the laity to restore trust
2. Embrace the opportunity to act voluntarily now
3. Address the needs of survivors for support and healing
4. Provide complete transparency into the scale of the abuse in both human and financial terms
5. Ensure the faithful are central within the organizational structures of the Church
6. Voluntarily delegate greater authority to the consultative bodies in the diocese
7. Establish accountability with periodic review of implementation
8. Engage the Leadership Roundtable
9. Revive the spirit of Vatican II

ADDITIONAL PRIORITIES AHEAD

- Additional work on the handling of abuse victims and cases
- Financial transparency about the cost of the abuse crisis
- Rethinking the role of consultative bodies in the diocese
- Better organizational practices for all key processes in the diocese
- Build a system of accountability and regular review
- Renew our commitment to Vatican II
- Address priestly formation

The Initial Report of The Movement to Restore Trust

What you need to know

- On July 24, 2019, The Movement to Restore Trust (MRT), a group of independent, committed Catholics formed last year to address the Diocese of Buffalo's handling of clergy sex abuse cases, released The Initial Report of the Movement to Restore Trust. This 68-page document seeks "increased support and compassion as well as justice for survivors of sexual abuse and recommends the implementation of meaningful reforms, with a goal of restoring the faithful's trust and confidence in the Church and its leadership."
- MRT's goal is to be a conduit for the voice of the laity to lead the Church in Buffalo to a new place, a state of trust that has been restored and is marked by:
  - A commitment to justice for the victims of sex abuse;
  - A commitment to Co-Responsibility: the creation of a Church in which lay Catholics work hand in hand with ordained Catholics, in an equal partnership;
  - Complete transparency about past and current instances of sex abuse and a process for dealing with those cases that will inspire trust and confidence;
  - New transparent structures for bishop accountability;
  - Openness and transparency; a way of addressing leadership failure and replacing outdated and secretive management practices based on a respect for the competency of the laity.
- MRT is independent of the Diocese of Buffalo, but since the release of the Executive Summary (the first report in this document) in March, the MRT has been working with Bishop Malone and the diocesan senior staff, including Msgr. LiPuma from the Presbyteral Council on the implementation of recommendations.
- An Outline of The Initial MRT Report
  - The Executive Summary (pages 3-7) provide a good overview of the MRT, the process by which this report was developed and the nine foundational themes that cut across the work of all six MRT workgroups.
  - The summary of recommendations (pages 8-13) summarizes the recommendations of the six working groups.
  - There follows six work group reports with more detailed analysis and recommendations in the following areas:
    - Transparency around the nature and scale of the abuse in the diocese and financial and spiritual reparations for victims/survivors
    - Transparency about all diocesan operations
    - Accountability for bishops
    - Selecting and monitoring bishops
    - Greater involvement by women and laity in the Church
    - Improvements in the formation of priests & priestly life
- Upon receipt of the Executive Summary and the summary of recommendations in March, Bishop Malone suggested the creation of a Joint Implementation Team (JIT) comprised of

MRT representatives and diocesan representatives and reporting to both Bishop Malone and the MRT.

- The JIT has held a series of meetings, with the MRT represented by Maureen Hurley, Paul Bauer and Nancy Nielsen, and the diocese represented by Father Peter Karalus (vicar general), Sister Regina Murphy, SSMN (chancellor), Dennis Mahaney (director, Parish Life) and Msgr. David LiPuma (pastor, Our Lady of Victory Parish/president of Our Lady of Victory Institutions, Lackawanna).
- To date, the MRT has celebrated a number of successes:
  - At the recommendation of MRT, Bishop Malone agreed to a series of Listening Sessions across the diocese (four have already been held; three more are scheduled through August).
  - James J. Beardi, retired M & T Bank Executive Vice President, has been named by the bishop as chair of the Diocesan Finance Council, and three members of the laity were appointed to the council, which now has a majority of lay members. Beardi, the first lay person to chair the council, was the leader of Work Group 2, which called for some significant changes to the policies on diocesan finances.
  - The diocese hired Leadership Roundtable, a renowned consulting firm working with over 70 dioceses across the country. Domenic Perri of Leadership Roundtable is working with the Bishop and the JIT to introduce best practices and promote the process of reform. In a recent WBFO interview, Leadership Roundtable noted the unique and groundbreaking process that the MRT has forged in Buffalo.
  - MRT played an active role in diocesan Priest Convocation in early June and summarized the work of the MRT and the important role that the priests and parishioners of the diocese will play in the process of reform going forward.
  - The Diocesan Review Board was renamed Independent Review Board (IRB) and the MRT is working with the chair of IRB to implement ongoing improvements to the process of investigating and evaluating claims.
  - Members of the MRT are working with diocesan leaders to recommend improvements to the victim listening sessions held by the bishop.
  - Members of the MRT are working with diocesan leaders to recommend how victim meetings with the bishop could be made more frequent and improved.
