The Sanctuary Lamp burns this week In Elba In Memory of

Paulette Zambito-Bird

By John, Pam, Sean & Matt Starowitz

All Souls Remembrance Mass will be held at 10:00am Sunday, November 1st at 10am, Oakfield site

This Mass is a celebration of those who have passed this year. We have invited all of the families of the deceased to light a candle in their honor at the Mass. Candles will burn in their memory at the weekend Masses during the month of November until Thanksgiving.

Please keep these departed members and their families in your prayers at this time.

Due to COVID restrictions, seating is limited. Please consider attending the 4:30pm Saturday or 8:00am Sunday Mass next weekend to allow more space for our invited families at the 10:00am Mass on Sunday, November 1st. Thank you for your consideration.

Please send in ALL SOULS day envelopes to the office by Sunday, October 25th for your loved ones to be included in the bulletin.

October 25—Faith Formation

This Week's Gospel : Matthew 22:34-40 In this Sunday's Gospel, the Pharisees are trying to test Jesus. They were well aware that there are many laws in the first five books of the Bible-the books the Jews call the a Torah or the Law. The Pharisees asked Jesus which law was the greatest. Jesus answered at once:To love God with your whole self and to love your neighbor as yourself. Then Jesus give the reason these two laws are important- because all the other laws depend on these two commandments. This week is a wonderful opportunity for your family to celebrate your love for God and your love for one another.

Exploring the Gospel Message as a Family: Your child's life is filled with rules. You provide many of those rules, but so do teachers, coaches and other adults. But there is no more important rule than the Great Commandment- love of God and love of neighbor.

Pray Together as a Family: When you complete your conversation about the Sunday's Gospel lesson , create a family litany . Make a list of all the ways your family can show love for God and love of others. Take turns reciting list. After each item, the family can pray, "They will know we are Christians by our love !"

One day in the fall of 2015, my mother, Betty Baldwin, and I were trying to figure out an inexpensive Christmas present for my girls, Nicole Watson and Julie Potter. I suggested that we look what genealogy history we could find on their grandmother Florence Rivas Potter Lawvey and their great-grandmother Florincia Arciniega Rivas Moreno.

We had a few known facts to start out with. Florence was born in San Antonio to Florincia Arciniega Rivas and Louis Rivas (died at age 30 of the flu). She met and married Harold Potter from Oakfield while he was stationed in the United States Air Force in San Antonio in the 1950’s. Florence and Harold moved to Alabama Center to start a family and had two boys, William (Billy) and Robert (Bob). Florincia lived with Florence in Alabama Center with her second husband Guadalupe Moreno until she passed away in 1970 (Buried at the St. Padre Pio Parish Cemetery).

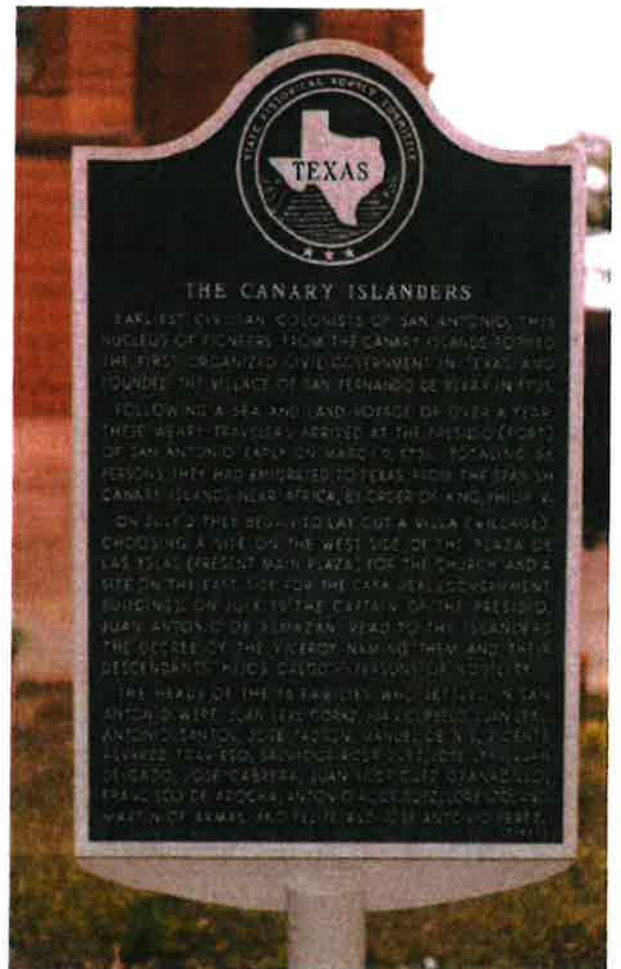

My mother-in-law, Florence, would always talk about how Joske’s Department store (quite famous at the time in Texas) squatted and took some of their land in San Antonio and that she was Spanish and Not Mexican. Florence passed away on July 6, 2000 (Buried in the Alabama Cemetery) so I couldn’t ask her any genealogical facts. As you can see not a lot of information to start out with.

My mother started researching Ancestry.com and I started with familysearch.org. Before you know it, we both came up with a huge hit that they were direct descendants of the pilgrims that came from the Canary Island, Spain to San Antonio de Bexar on March 9, 1731. Since many of the settlers were families and their offspring, they were related to most all of the settlers. I found a distant cousin of the Delgado family on Facebook and told him what I had found. He verified they were indeed direct descendants to the Canary Islands through Florincia Arciniega whose mother was a Delgado.

Florincia’s father was an Arciniega and we found that she was a direct descendant of Jose Miguel de Arciniega (1793-1849), mayor of colonial San Antonio 1830 and 1833, legislator, military explorer and Justice of the Peace. He served with the provincial deputation of Texas, which allowed abandoned mission lands to be distributed to the settlers. Jose Miguel Arciniega was appointed land commissioner for the Stephen F. Austin colonies and laid out the town of Bastrop in 1832. He was chosen to be the interpreter in negotiations to the terms of the surrender of Bexar in the siege of the Alamo. Miguel has a block in San Antonio dedicated to him and this period of time makes my children eligible for membership of The Daughters of the Republic of Texas.

Florence's Rivas lineage takes us back to the early 1700's where Antonio Rivas came from the San Sebastian area in northern Spain to Texas as a soldier defending the Spanish claims of the new land from the French soldiers also trying to claim the land that is now Texas. Antonio Rivas was given a Spanish land grant of 123,000, 1,535 and 1,300 acres of land respectively in Maverick, Webb and Dimmitt counties by the Rio Grande River for his leadership protecting the Spanish missions in the beginning of Texas. His grandson, Jose Francisco's nephew, Jose Antonio de la Garza (1776-1851) also a mayor of San Antonio, developed the first coin of Texas (Star on one side and JAG on the other side of the coin), received a Spanish land grant and had Garza County named after him. Captain Jose Francisco Rivas's uncle, Diego Ramon (1641-1724) was a soldier with Francisco de Elizondo's expedition accompanying Alonso De Leon. He was a commandant of the presidio of San Juan Bautista playing a key role in the development of Spanish Texas founding missions in both Texas and Coahuila. Ramon was placed in charge of a "flying company" defending the Rio Grande Missions.

So WOW, and I wonder if Florence and Florincia ever knew their vivid blood lineage history to the beginnings of Texas. These women have ties to the Alamo, Davy Crockett and many others as their blood lineage goes back to the beginning when Texas was forming. Many of the streets in San Antonio are named after their ancestors. They have historical family cemeteries dedicated to their direct lineage just outside San Antonio.

My girls and I gathered for Christmas 2015 and I called my mom and put her on the phone speaker handing both girls an envelope saying I was giving them a highly valuable expensive present - Your heritage and Grandma Flo book of direct blood lineage to the beginning of Texas.

For all those who struggle in silence and those families facing difficulty who need our support.

*Good and gracious God, we are grateful for your presence with us
now and always.
Be with us as we welcome all who seek you.
Open the doors of our hearts to your grace as we open the doors of our parish to your people.
May all who enter be drawn to your loving embrace.
We ask this in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, who is one with you and the Holy Spirit.
Now and for ever. Amen.*
